All webmasters want a healthy amount of visitors to their websites. Visits to your website are referred to as traffic and a lack of traffic is the number one complaint of webmasters. An excellent way to get more traffic is to start a traffic virus.

Don't worry, a traffic virus isn't harmful at all, unlike a computer virus that will destroy the software on your computer. It really isn't a virus at all. A traffic virus is just termed a virus because like other forms of virus, it is capable of growth and multiplication. When traffic grows and multiplies like a virus, many people will refer to it as viral traffic.

A bad computer virus will get spread from one computer to another, usually by sharing files or email attachments, without any effort from the creator.

A traffic virus will do the same thing. It will spread itself around the Internet automatically from person to person, usually by means of viral networks, without you even being involved.

The difference being that the traffic virus is very good as it will bring you lots of traffic and lots of visitors means more profits.

So unlike a computer virus, a traffic virus isn't damaging to the recipients. Instead it helps the recipient by helping them get more traffic to their website and this causes them to send it to their friends so they can get more traffic, and those friends send it to their friends and so on...

Using a traffic virus to get more visitors is a form of Internet Marketing used by webmasters everywhere to increase their traffic. I personally get a creepy feeling when I hear the word virus, so for now on, let's refer to the use of a traffic virus as Viral Traffic Marketing.

So Why Would I Want To Use Viral Traffic Marketing?

Well how about for the free traffic it will bring you! Viral traffic marketing has the ability to reach out to people across the Internet, spreading your marketing message. Viral traffic marketing is one of the best, if not the best way of marketing your website.

Combine viral marketing with other promotional methods such as search engine optimization and the benefits of the increased traffic flow and the resulting revenue increases will make your business more profitable.

Many webmasters are now aware of the effectiveness of viral marketing. They are looking for ways to use viral marketing in their marketing plans. If you share a strategy with them and they use it in their marketing, you will benefit by an increase in your traffic as well.

So How Do I Start My Viral Traffic?

One of the easiest ways to start a viral traffic campaign is to use existing networks that get results by using different techniques. There are many different types of viral traffic producing networks that will provide a remedy for the lack-of-traffic ills.

In this report we will review three different techniques used by three different viral networks. The three networks we will review do a really good job of helping people to start a viral traffic campaign.

You can make your campaign more successful by concentrating on a few really good programs instead of trying to promote too many at one time. Pick three or four good programs and promote...promote...promote...

For the most part you will promote your viral traffic programs just like you do your affiliate programs. Your personal recommendation, emails, banners and text links will all work extremely well!

I have a secret strategy I will share with you right after the reviews.

Viral Webpage Networks

FreeViral is an example of a quality viral webpage network. Their system is similar to others you may have seen on the Internet, but FreeViral is ranked by Alexa as being in the top 1% of all trafficked websites in the world! That is very impressive because that's out of 40 million sites!

The concept is simple; at the bottom of their page you will find 6 classified ads.

Click on each of the ads and you will be shown a code which you immediately copy and paste into the corresponding ad box. It takes a short amount of time for the code to show so you can review the site while you are waiting. After acquiring all of the codes, you can then sign up to participate in the system.

When you sign up, you will receive a replicated website just like the one you were on when you signed up except your classified ad will be in the #1 position! The ad that was in the #1 position will move down to the #2 position, the 2nd ad to the #3 position, and so on with the last classified ad being taken off of the page.

Promote this website just as you would any affiliate program. You get traffic to your website and remember, traffic generates more income and more income generates more profit!

The process is rather simple. When someone signs up from your site, they must first click on your classified ad, just as you clicked on ads when you signed up.

They will have to wait a few seconds for the code to appear on a separate frame at the top of the screen, so while they wait, they will have time to read what you have to offer!

Make it good, remember you only have a matter of seconds to catch their attention and have them either leave their email or bookmark your site. This can equate to more sales, downline members, affiliate sign-ups, ezine subscribers, etc.!

You will receive FREE Traffic throughout all 6 levels because each classified ad will have to be clicked on to retrieve the unique code!

So when someone signs up from your website, their classified ad will be placed in the #1 spot with your ad moving to the #2 spot, the 2nd ad moving down to the #3 spot and so on. By the time your classified ad reaches the #6 spot, you will have noticed an amazing amount of FREE traffic!

Be prepared for some massive visitor traffic to your site as this system works extremely well! Remember, this system generates GUARANTEED VISITS to your site because participants are required to visit your website and are given the time to review your offer. That translates to GUARANTEED MASSIVE VISITOR TRAFFIC TO YOUR SITE that will actually look at your page.

Traffic Exchange Networks

A traffic exchange network is where you can receive exposure for your own web site by viewing the sites and ads of other people. In simplest terms, you agree to check out sites belonging to fellow members and in return they send you traffic. TrafficSwarm is an excellent example of a Viral Traffic Exchange Network.

It is different from most traffic exchanges in that you list your website description, then real people get to choose whether to click on your ad or not. This means you'll get visitors who are predisposed to like what you're offering because they have read your site description and have decided to check out your site.

Each time you click on a member's site you earn 'credits'. These credits earn you the right to have your link posted on the network, thereby generating traffic to your site.

The Basic service is FREE. You simply accumulate credits by using their incredibly popular Start Page, Search Engine or their link box that displays member site descriptions on YOUR site. Each of these credits earns you the right to additional displays of your site link throughout the network.

The fastest way to earn a lot of credits is to refer new members. It's easy and your credits will accrue automatically. For each new member you receive 100 credits and each time this new member opens their browser you get 1 credit.

TrafficSwarm automatically tracks whom YOU enrolled and then whom THEY enrolled, down five levels. As your credits increase with people enrolling under you, you can literally watch it happen on your member page.

This is VERY powerful, because it's 'viral'. Once you refer a few other quality sites to TrafficSwarm, either directly or indirectly, the traffic to YOUR site will increase exponentially and automatically.

What this means is that if you refer John to TrafficSwarm, John refers Jane, Jane refers Bill, Bill refers Sally, and Sally refers Ed ... you will earn credits on ALL of these people, and people they refer too!

I believe the primary reason that TrafficSwarm generates such incredible results is because unlike some systems that force people to view random websites, with TrafficSwarm they get to choose what they are interested in.

But the other big reason is that cheating is practically non-existent on their network. Elaborate automated Anti-Cheat monitoring systems and manual investigation where applicable mean that cheaters don't stand a chance.

Ad Exchange Networks

MyViralAds is an example of an ad-exchange network. Simply drop a simple line of code on to your web site which will cause Ads to be shown to anyone who leaves your web site. For each ad you show, you will earn credits. Those credits will then be spent on showing your Ads on other sites.

You can build a network of people 10 levels below you that are all earning credits for YOU. In essence, any time any of your referrals 10 levels below you gets a hit to their web site, you'll earn credits!

When you design your ad, you will pick a category from a comprehensive list of site types. Your ad is guaranteed to only be shown to people in that category, to ensure that you earn maximum profits from your ad. Since the ads are shown only on exit, they cannot possibly affect the way your web site works.

The ads are like the popular Adwords style text Ads. The ad style is probably the most popular and fastest growing type of ad in Internet advertising. Studies have shown that buyers are more susceptible to read and buy from "Text-Based-Ads" than ads that appear in popups.

The ads are not blocked by pop-up blockers. As pop-up ads slowly become less effective, these ads will become more effective.

The ads also advertise your referral link at the bottom of each ad and on the logo. So if anyone clicks on the bottom ad, you will get credit for the sign up. Your Downline will grow and grow and grow!

They pay commissions on all sales of upgrades and impressions down a whopping 2 levels deep! I do not know of any other viral traffic exchanges that pay you on signups like this.

There you have it, three reputable viral traffic generating networks ready to help you with your viral marketing campaign and increase your traffic!

So What Is The Secret Strategy?

Well, it's not exactly a secret! Most people don't use this promotional method because they do not have the time to write and create a quality product.

What I am talking about are ebooks and reports that have your links to programs built into them, so you can receive the credit for any commissions and sign-ups resulting from those links. This will build your downline very quickly.

Giving away a free viral ebook about viral traffic, which contains your links to reputable viral marketing networks can be very beneficial to your traffic and to your bottom line. Everyone that signs-up through your links in the book would be in your downline earning you more credits and commissions.

And if these new people that just joined in your downline, could re-brand the book, give it away and have more people sign-up, then they would all be in your downline. This will go on for as many levels as the programs allow.

Everyone should be using ebooks and reports in their marketing plans.
And the ebooks and reports they use should be easy to re-brand!

How About This?

If you do not have an ebook or report about viral traffic, then use this one. You can brand it with your links to FreeViral, TrafficSwarm and MyViralAds. You can put your name on it and also have a link back to your website.

Simply give it away to your visitors, subscribers and friends. They will want to join the programs and brand the report with their links so they can start getting more traffic and YOU will get the commissions and growth of your downline!

You should still use the other methods to promote each program individually, but this will provide an opportunity for you to promote all three programs at one time.

Let's do a quick review and then we will brand your copy of this report.

OK! Let's Review!

No need to worry, a traffic virus isn't harmful at all.
